

The Power of One, Ignite your Life

John O'Leary

When John O'Leary was nine, a fire exploded and left him with burns on 100% of his body. Doctors gave him a 1% chance of surviving, yet he did. And after enduring months in a hospital bed and years of physical therapy, John woke up to what really matters. For years, he and his family kept that chapter of their lives private. They didn't discuss the fire, what they had endured or all they had learned. That changed 20 years later when his parents decided to write a book. They called it "Overwhelming Odds" and it told the story of...
