

Sports Moderator, Speaker & Coach

Florian König

Florian König is a successful sports presenter who is an integral part of German sports television. It all began with his studies in sports journalism at the German Sport University in Cologne. In his first year, the Tübingen native completed an internship in the sports editorial department of Süddeutscher Rundfunk (ARD) in Stuttgart, where he subsequently worked as a freelancer. From then on, his career took off: he continued to work for ARD, reporting on the German Football League, the Olympic Games and the World Championships in Athletics. At the end of the 1990s, Florian König moved from ARD to...
