Germany's youngest entrepreneur

Samuel Kutger

Samuel Kutger is considered Germany’s youngest founder – and an inspiring role model for a new generation of entrepreneurs. With his authentic manner, entrepreneurial courage and keen sense for trends, he captivates audiences and captivates the stage. He speaks openly about successes and failures, about risk-taking, Generation Z and how to found a start-up at the age of 17 that convinces investors. He is now involved in or owns several renewable energy companies. As a speaker, he has appeared at the Young Founders Network Conference, FuckUp Nights Hanau, the Q-Summit at the University of Mannheim and the Cashflow Conference, among…
