

Basketball Executive & Leadership Expert, High Performance & Team Culture Specialist, CEO & Sports Business Strategist

Marko Peši?

What really holds winning teams together: leadership, culture and decision-making under pressure Marko Peši? embodies leadership based on experience – not theory. As a former national basketball player and long-standing managing director of FC Bayern Basketball, he understands top-level sport from two perspectives: from the dressing room and from the position of responsibility at the helm of an organisation. This combination makes him an exceptionally credible speaker for companies seeking to better understand and shape performance, culture and leadership under pressure. Marko Peši? speaking topics What really holds winning teams together Marko Peši? demonstrates why talent alone is not enough...
