

Time Management Expert, Organisational Developer, Transformation Consultant & Author

Jonas Geissler

Jonas Geissler – Why the future of businesses is a question of time. Jonas Geissler is the leading expert in Time Management, when it comes to managing time within organisations. As a SPIEGEL bestselling author, speaker and organisational consultant, he combines scientific insights with practical application – and reframes one of the central questions of our time: How can companies be effective without burning themselves out in the process? Jonas Geissler debunks outdated myths about time and shows why time cannot simply be managed – but is instead the decisive lever for innovation, health and sustainable success.
