

Eishockeycoach, Expert on Leadership, Teambuilding & Motivation

Bob Leslie

Bob Leslie: We have to learn to control what we can and recognize what is not in our control. What matters is how we respond to the situation. Bob Leslie studied at Brandon University and the University of Winnipeg, where he graduated with a Bachelor of Teaching. After completing his education, he followed his passion and played professional field hockey in Canada, the United States and Europe. Following careers as a professional field hockey player, special education teacher, and student and adult counselor, he became passionately involved in the world of leadership seminars and leadership training.
