

Business Philosopher - Expert for Innovation, Strategy, Business & Economy

Kjell A. Nordström

With a rare prophetic accuracy, Kjell Nordström has predicted several important keys to success for organisations in our rapidly changing world. He correctly identified difference and ‘otherness’ as competitive advantages, cities as the new primary agents of the world, and the subtle yet thorough effects of women permeating all levels of society — long before other great minds in business. And although we can only predict the future based on what we know today, a Kjell Nordström lecture is your chance to equip your organisation with the most up-to-date thinking.
