

Positioning / Profiling / Performance Enhancing

Jon Christoph Berndt®

Those who actively shape the future know better what will happen and what they will get involved in; and shape their own future. But where to start and what to do in the age of too many possibilities?

Jon Christoph Berndt: "If you want to move people forward, you have to touch them." He makes a refreshing plea for people to move forward now. He brings this conviction to large and small stages in an opinionated, exemplary and practical way. He does not speak to his participants, but...
