Karl-Heinz Land: "Digital starts with people – and changing their perspective!"
Karl-Heinz Land has been living and shaping digitalization for 3 decades already and has actively followed the developments until today. The current events of the Corona crisis force us to an unprecedented standstill. The virus exposes the flaws in our system like through a burning glass. He has taken this as an opportunity to question our system in its entirety. In his new lecture "Standstill as Accelerator" he takes a close look at our social, political and above all economic goings-on and at the same time shows an exciting...
