Fatima Bhutto

With a family background in politics in Pakistan, and following the death of her father in 1996, Fatima Bhutto studied Middle Eastern Languages and Cultures at Columbia University, before completing a Masters in South Asian Government and Politics at the School of Oriental and African Studies. For two years she wrote a weekly column for Jang, Pakistan's largest Urdu newspaper, and The News, its English sister paper, which included written diaries from Tehran, Iran, Cuba and Lebanon during the 2006 summer war. In addition, she's written articles that have appeared in a host of global newspapers and magazines as diverse...
