Röbi Koller

Röbi Koller was born in 1957 and went to school in the French and German speaking parts of Switzerland. After studies at the University of Zurich he began his career as a radio presenter working for private and public Swiss radio stations. In 1988 he joined Swiss National Television where he has been hosting a variety of shows with social topics as well as entertainment programs. In his current prime time show «Happy Day» he makes wishes come true and leads the audience through highly emotional human stories. In 2007 Röbi Koller published his first book about an extraordinary Swiss...
