

Social Intrapreneur, Corporate Insurgent, Author and Storyteller

Gib Bulloch

Business clearly has the power to change the world – but Gib Bulloch challenges his audiences by asking what if we, as individuals, had the power to change the world of business? Bulloch founded and scaled an audacious corporate “guerrilla movement” within one of the world’s largest global consulting organisations. But success came at a price: It ultimately cost him his job, his health and perhaps even his sanity as he found himself the unlikely resident of a psychiatric hospital in Glasgow.
