Gib Bulloch

Gib Bulloch: „The next big transformation in business will not be artificial. It will be human.“ This is the provocation from Gib Bulloch, an inspiring, pioneering and visionary business leader who writes and speaks on a range of topics relating to the role of business in society. Bulloch argues that as new technology and AI become ubiquitous, differentiation and breakthrough innovation will depend upon an organisations ability to access the innate human potential and creativity of its leaders. During his talks, Bulloch draws on his own extensive experience as an award-winning “intrapreneur” within consulting giant Accenture, to weave a compelling...
