

Expert of building High Performance Teams, Blue Angels Pilot

John Foley

In 2011, John founded the Glad To Be Here® Foundation. John donates 10% of his net speaking fees to charities through the foundation. John works with every client to donate up to $1,000 to charities of their choosing. Through this program over 300 charities and $1.5M dollars have impacted thousands of lives globally. It's part of his mission to connect a shared "purpose larger than self" with every organization.

John Foley was a solo pilot for the Blue Angels aerobatic formation, a Sloan Fellow at the Stanford School of Business, a Gratitude Guru, and an expert on "how to" in high performing teams. His exciting and unusual life journey knows how to inspire and inspire audiences to take action...
