Robin Söder

Robin Söder is the chairman and owner of SöderX. He founded this holding company in order to be able to pursue his great passion of founding and building his own companies in a professional manner. It all started in 2016. His career as a soccer player ended early. In his early 20s, he decided to give up what meant the most to him in his young life: soccer. He realized that despite the great successes and years of competitive sports from childhood, the soccer business is not the industry that will make him happy as a person in the long...
