Expert Health, Leadership & Neurocommunication

Dr. Oliver Schumann

Oliver Schumann, born in 1974, studied sports economics at the University of Bayreuth, Bavaria. This laid the academic and mental foundation for thinking and acting in an interdisciplinary way. This was intensified by his stays abroad in Mexico, as a research assistant in an international research project and later in Japan, supported by a scholarship from the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation. His curriculum vitae is multi-faceted and colourful, including further training as a broadcaster and media stays at N24, in Berlin and in the sports editorial department at ZDF, on the Lerchenberg. “A fish only feels that it needs water…
