

Former national ice hockey player - Expert Motivation, Leadership and Sport vs. Business

Florence Schelling

Florence Schelling, Olympic and World Championship bronze medalist and the world's best ice hockey goalkeeper. Alongside her field hockey career, Florence has completed a Masters in Business Administration and Sports Management, trained as a Certified Professional Coach and worked in a variety of industries in the private sector. She not only offers a unique perspective, but also a wealth of knowledge that extends far beyond the ice rink. Florence Schelling discovered her passion for field hockey at the tender age of 4 when she was included in her brothers' goalie drills at home in the garage. This early experience shaped...
