

Expert on Talent-Engagement, Leadership & Psychological Safety

Daniela Landherr

Daniela Landherr – Expert on Talent Engagement, Leadership and Psychological Safety. Daniela Landherr is the former Head of Talent Engagement EMEA at Google, now entrepreneur and executive coach, who inspires leaders to transform their work culture amplifying psychological safety at scale. Reducing fear at the workplace, creating safe spaces that enable people to have “the real” conversations, increasing trust, turning toxicity into a powerful network of effective and positive communication – these are some of the areas that organizations see changing during their partnership with Daniela and her team. Leaders become more aware of their personal energy and its impact...
