

Founder "Rebels at Work", New Work & Innovation Enthusiast

Peter Kreuz

Peter Kreuz: "If you build fences around people, you get sheep." For two decades, Peter Kreuz has been tracking down people and organizations on every continent who have the courage to think and implement the unconventional. Companies that are joined by the best talents and customers. People who are passionate about making a real difference with their work. With his presentations, Peter Kreuz encourages people to rethink leadership and work. Instead of following familiar patterns and old concepts for success, the aim is to discover new ways of thinking and acting and to work on the future with personal responsibility,...
