

Digital Philosopher, Futurologist, Geopolitician, Environmental and Social strategist

Aric Dromi

Aric Dromi is a highly respected keynote speaker, futurologist, geopolitical, environmental & social strategist. Aric spent years helping executives and decision makers to refine their offer and understand the potential impacts that lie along the road ahead. Aric's strengths lie in his ability to identify patterns and challenge them, along with his ability to use this skill to define new directions and experiments that provide a pathway forward. "Survival of the fittest" does not necessarily mean being the fastest or the strongest, but rather being fit, agile and adjusted to your specific environment and time. This is as true for...
