

Business Economist, Ex-Investment Banker, DJ & Psychologist

Annie Oelmann

Performance- and success-oriented from an early age, Annie Oelmann, aka Annie O., decided to study business administration at a renowned German private university. After graduating, she had achieved her goal: At the age of 22, she went to London to join Merrill Lynch as an investment banker. Her starting salary was just under €100,000. Purpose: The break in her resume – from Investment Banker to DJane But after a very short time she realized that the investment banker's daily routine didn't suit her needs at all and that she had been chasing an illusory self-affirmation. She listened to her gut,...
