

Presenter, Olympic gold medallist & Beach Volleyball expert, Podcaster

Julius Brink

In 2012, Julius Brink and Jonas Reckermann made sporting history. At the Summer Olympics, in front of an audience of millions, they were the first European team ever to win the gold medal in beach volleyball. Countless awards followed, such as the “Silver Laurel Leaf”, the “Bambi” in the category “Sport” as well as the “Felix Award” in the category “Team of the Year” and many more. In May 2014, the Olympic, World and European champion ended his career due to an injury and since then has been regularly in front of the camera as a TV presenter and commentator...
