

Presenter to master complexity and convey true emotions

Stephan Lendi

Stephan is a highly experienced host, moderator and voice artist. He took his first steps in the media business as a teenager with radio contributions for local Zurich radio stations and as a copywriter for E! True Hollywood Stories adaptations for the German-speaking market. At 18, he began voicing his first commercials ranging from CD promotions for then-current bands like the Backstreet Boys to local and national radio ads. At around 20 first engagements as Station Voice followed as well as Imax films and TV shows. At the age of 25, while studying law in Zurich and completing an MBA...
