

Graduate meteorologist & TV presenter

Sven Plöger

The qualified meteorologist, author, speaker and weather presenter Sven Plöger, born in Bonn in 1967, was already fascinated by the sky, clouds and flying as a child. This and his love of physics made him want to become a meteorologist at an early age. After studying meteorology in Cologne, he quickly discovered his talent for the media. Sven Plöger has been broadcasting live on the radio since 1996 – he has been in front of the camera for 25 years, presenting the live weather show “Wetter vor acht” before the Tagesschau, the weather after the Tagesthemen and numerous TV weather...
