

Swiss television journalist & SRF correspondent, author

Luzia Tschirky

Luzia Tschirky has been reporting from Ukraine as a correspondent for Swiss radio and television since the beginning of the Russian war of aggression on February 24, 2022. Russia's war of aggression on Ukraine suddenly changed everything in the Sargans native's life. Overnight, the correspondent became a war reporter. Tschirky herself describes this date as a turning point. From then on, she reported from the embattled regions, from war atrocities, flight and misery. She has now also written a book about this: "Live from Ukraine". Before the historically greatest event in recent European history, the journalist lived and worked in...
