

Journalist, TV and event presenter for sports and business topics, female empowerment

Lisa Ramuschkat

Lisa Ramuschkat has been presenting shows on the web and TV as well as event formats, live or recorded, since 2013. Her main focus is on sport – from football to basketball, racing and more, but she is also passionate about business topics, innovations and start-ups. She has a particular fondness for bilingual presentations in German and English. Over the years, she has gained a wide range of experience in the sports industry. As a former competitive hockey player, she knows exactly what is important in sport in general, but also specifically on the sidelines, and feels comfortable in environments...
