Mariana Atencio

Navigating change and uncertainty in life is hard. It’s even harder when you’re not confident about who you are. Coming to America from Venezuela as a young girl, Mariana Atencio felt self-conscious about being different. She recounted her struggles to fit in and adapt to her new life in a TED talk that captured the hearts of tens of millions. Mariana’s message: “What makes you different is what makes you special – unleash your potential by embracing your authenticity.” Mariana Atencio took that lesson into her journalism career as a national news anchor and network reporter. A born storyteller, Mariana…
